ZAMI's Herstory

In October 1989, a Women of Color Caucus (WOCC) was created by lesbian members of the African-American Lesbian and Gay Alliance (AALGA) to focus on their political, social, economic, and personal needs. In June 1990, WOCC members voted to secede from AALGA in order to become an autonomous entity.

Ever evolving, these women renamed themselves, ZAMI. The name ZAMI also honors the late Audre Lorde, a Black lesbian feminist poet who was poet laureate for New York state and who wrote the biomythography ZAMI: A New Spelling of My Name.

The Audre Lorde Scholarship Fund

The Audre Lorde Scholarship Awards are designed to recognize out* lesbians of African descent who are making significant contributions to their communities. ZAMI wants to support and encourage their continuing education by providing scholarships to those women enrolled in accredited technical, undergraduate and graduate programs located in the following states: Georgia, Florida, Mississippi, Louisiana, South Carolina, North Carolina, Tennessee, Alabama, Arkansas, Texas, Virginia and Kentucky.

Forums, Cultural Events and Social Activities

- An opportunity to meet and greet local and national Black lesbians in a safe supportive space.
- Education and Advocacy.
- The chance to share and learn valuable information about issues that impact our lives as African American lesbians.

ZAMI

A carriacou word meaning women who work together as friends and lovers.

Atlanta's Premiere Organization for Lesbians of African Descent

MISSION

ZAMI is a support/discussion group for African-American lesbians. Many attend bimonthly ZAMI meetings for affirmation, comfort, and emotional nurturance. There are also those who come because it's the only place where they can find their voices. We are all sister outsiders who turn to each other to make family. We turn to each other for strength and sustenance.

HERSTORY

In October 1989, a Women of Color Caucus (WOCC) was created by lesbian members of AALGA (African-American Lesbian and Gay Alliance) to focus on their political, social, economic, and personal needs.

HERSTORY CONTINUED

In June 1990, WOCC members voted to secede from AALGA in order to become an autonomous entity. Ever evolving, these women renamed themselves ZAMI - a Carriacou word meaning women who work together as friends and lovers. The name ZAMI also honors the late Audre Lorde, a Black lesbian-feminist who was poet laureate of New York and who wrote the biomythography entitled ZAMI.

WHO WE ARE . . .

ZAMI's membership consists of African-American lesbians of all colors, shapes, sizes, economic backgrounds, and abilities. Most of our members reside in metropolitan Atlanta and surrounding areas. We range in age from teens to seniors and are employed in a variety of occupations.

AT OUR MEETINGS

We meet every second and fourth Sunday from 6:30 8:30 pm. Members are free to discuss personal and/or specific issues. If no issues are raised, topics will be chosen from the general topic pool.

CONFIDENTIALITY

All statements made during ZAMI meetings shall be held confidential within the group.

OUTNESS

"Outness" is defined as the level of disclosure or degree of openness about one's sexual orientation. All ZAMI members respect each others degree of outness.

ACTIVITIES

- Presents an annual celebration in honor of Audre Lorde
- Secured funding from the Fund for Southern Communities to sponsor a weekend retreat on Internalized Homophobia
- Hosted book signing reception for Linda Villarosa, Executive Editor of Essence magazine and editor of Body and Soul
- Sponsored poetry reading and performance by doris davenport author of Voodoo Chile and Eat Thunder and Drink Rain
- Co-sponsored with SONG (Southerners On New Ground) a reading and book signing by Mab Segrest and Suzanne Pharr

ACTIVITIES CONTINUED

- Presented panels on many topics including "Young Dykes Speak Out," "Surviving Childhood Incest," "Sex, Lies, and HIV," "Dishing with the Brothers," "Black Lesbians over Seventy," "Parents and Friends of Lesbians and Gays"

IN OUR FUTURE. . .

Δ ZAMI plans to create an annual Audre Lorde Scholarship Fund.

Δ With Emory University's Office of Lesbian, Gay & Bisexual Life, we plan to sponsor the Atlanta film premiere of "A Litany for Survival: The Life and Work of Audre Lorde" by Black lesbian film makers Michelle Parkerson and Ada Gay Griffin.

ZAMI NOBLA

National Organization of Black Lesbians on Aging

In Sept 2010, due to changing demographics, ZAMI: Atlanta's Premiere Organization for Lesbians of African Descent shifted its mission to become a national organization focusing on black lesbians 40 years and older and renamed itself ZAMI NOBLA (National Organization of Black Lesbians on Aging). Its mission is to empower and affirm the lives of aging black lesbians through advocacy, education, leadership development, health, research and policy initiatives, discussion groups, social outreach, and cultural activities.

What's in our immediate future?

- Monthly discussions every 2nd Sunday 4-6 pm (starting June 12, 2011).
- Outreach to establish a local membership base.
- National HOTLINE to provide a listening ear, information, and assistance with resources available to aging black lesbians.
- Care Teams to support Black lesbians, their partners, children, and caregivers needing assistance around health and social challenges.
- Funding mechanisms and resources to support the work of mobilizing aging black lesbians.

Some long-term plans:

- Chapters in select cities over the next 24 months.
- Trainings and workshops on black lesbian aging issues.
- Research protocols and collaborative research projects.

ZAMI is a collective of lesbians of color who work together to provide a positive self-image and a sense of community. Our purpose is to provide a social, educational and a support outlet.

We accomplish these goals through monthly discussions and social events, enabling women to meet other women in a supportive environment. Past topics have included: Spirituality in the Lesbian community, Relationships with your Mother, Substance Abuse, and Sexual Fantasies. Social events include picnics, movie nights, games nights, and camping trips.

ZAMI meets on the third Sunday of every month at 4 p.m. Each meeting is held at a different member's home. Dues are $5, which helps defray the cost of newsletter mailings, maintaining the phone list, social events, voice mail, etc.
